HIGHLIGHTED PERSONAL PROJECTS

Full Stack Web Developer

Remote
November 2021 – Present

Budget App – This project is about building a mobile web application where the user can manage their budget: they have a list of transactions associated with a category so that they can see how much money they spent and on what. here

- Built with: Ruby on Rails, Bootstrap

Covid-19 App – This project is about building a web application to check a list of metrics (numeric values) that I had to create making use of React and Redux. I have selected an API that provides numeric data about the Covid-19 dataset per country and then build the web app around it. here

- Built with: React, Redux, CSS3

Bookstore – The Bookstore is a website application that allows the user to: Display a list of books. Add a book. Remove a selected book. All the Data are stored in an API. here

- Built with: React, Redux, CSS3

Movie poster – Movies poster is a website that consumes TVMaze API where people can find interesting series or movies of any kind in case they are looking for something to watch and are not sure about which one to watch. here
